Join Us for a Day of Community Service Featuring International Exchange Students

In the old days, SATOYAMA had beautiful forests, clean rivers, animals and plants. People lived in perfect harmony with their environment. In time, however, SATOYAMA has been affected by the same environmental ills as the rest of the planet. On this day, we urge the local and the international community to combine our efforts to preserve SATOYAMA for the generations to come. As you do so, you will learn about the difficulties faced by the region as well as the ways the local community has resorted to local culture and knowledge to rebuild the harmony of the past. Join us in a unique intercultural experience!
